

Holy Spirit Preparatory School's
Catholic Schools Week
Media Center Book Swap
Monday - Friday
January 28, 2008 - February 1, 2008

In January, prior to Catholic Schools Week, the Media Center prepares for our annual book swap. Students are asked to bring in books to swap with other students. These books should be in good condition and ones that your children have either outgrown or tired of and would like to share with others. They should have your permission prior to bringing the books into school. They may bring as many as they wish.

During Catholic Schools Week, when each class has their Media Center time, the students that have brought in books to swap are allowed to select up to three books from those that have been brought in. This is an enjoyable time for all our students as they are able to 'buy' new books by trading in their books.
