

EARLY ACTION ADMISSIONS PROCESS

We offer two admissions options: Early Action and April Notification. Applications for Early Action are processed as received and admissions decisions are communicated once the file is complete and space availability is verified, often within 2 weeks. This option maximizes a student's chance of being offered a place at our school.

Applicants should only elect for Early Action if Holy Spirit Preparatory School is their first choice of schools and if he or she is prepared to commit to enrollment and attendance for the following school year.

Early Action admissions offers must be accepted or declined within two weeks of the offer. Candidates not offered a place under the Early Action program are automatically reconsidered for April Notification. All April Notification applications will be processed March 31st and must be accepted or declined within two weeks of receipt of offer.

Applicants may apply for Early Action admissions at any time. Acceptance may be conditional or unconditional dependent on subsequent in-house evaluation or observation. PreK-2 applicants may apply before birth, however, final acceptance is dependent on a developmental readiness observation.

Preschool applicants that have not achieved the appropriate developmental readiness at the start of the school year may request that a student be re-observed for readiness as openings arise during the school year.
